Conner Weiss

Project: Rootbeer

Since the project began, over 35 files have been generated or worked on. Matthew Rollings has been the most productive with 72 contributions to the project. Slim Namouchi on the otherhand has only contributed 2 times. Fig 1 below shows a graph wherein:

- The horizontal axis is which file has been worked on
- The vertical axis is which week since the project began that file was worked on
- The shade of the data point indicates which individual contributed to that file
